Company Overview

As a company that researches, develops, and produces natural herbs grown in Jeongseon, Gangwon-do, we produce, utilize, and cultivate raw materials. We have conducted research into respiratory diseases, lungs, bronchial tubes, asthma, rhinitis, immunity, and adult diseases for years, culminating in the production of extract-type products since December 2019.

In order to produce good products, good raw materials must be used. Accordingly, we cultivate and produce materials that contain a lot of active ingredients. We also study secondary processing to minimize changes in active ingredients and to facilitate absorption. We make products that satisfy both consumers and businesses.
