Company Overview

Hanwooltari is a professional venture company that cultivates in water and processes peanut sprouts known as longevity foods since long ago.

By processing peanut sprouts rich in antioxidant resveratrol and amino acids, we produce "tea" and health products with enhanced competitiveness.

For our health, through health bio food R&D and differentiated product development, we are developing a blue ocean of urban agriculture that creates high value-added products of wellness food with a new paradigm.

We hope to help customers keep healthy by producing quality products using 100% domestic raw materials and clean Gangwon-do water with much dissolved oxygen with pride in being an honest health food manufacturer.
